Grossmont Hi District Crowding Problem Met

Crowded conditions in Grossmont Union High School District schools are being met at Mount Miguel and Helix high schools by such measures as split second scheduling and building additions.

At Mount Miguel during most of the day, no rooms at all are available. Auto shop classes open at 7 a.m., and classes in sections of the language department meet after school.

An individual testing program upderway at Mount Miguel requires two hours, and has to be broken in the middle because no space is available for the two-hour block.

Crowded out of Offices

The only conference room available for parent-student-teachers conferences or conferences with law-enforcement officers is in use most of the day, either with the testing or some related activity.

Virgil Duea, vice principal, said "Students are crowded, teachers have no place to study during work periods, and now administrations are getting crowded out of their offices!" Duea was referring to a recent counselors' meeting, scheduled for the conference room which was full at the time. Eight counselors crowded into Duea's office for the session.

Lack Cafeteria Room

Helix high school cafeteria, built for 400 students at a time, now serves 600 in two lunch periods. In addition, students have lunches outside, but the area is so crowded that some buildings have been opened for lunch.

Sidewalks have been added to create "outside halls" to cut crowding in regular hallways. Portables are used as classrooms and study halls, where teachers aids assist as they do in large lecture sections of English and history.

The Little Theater accommodates 147 students and is full of classes every period.

Physical education facilities are so limited that Mary Ann Kendall and Dick Gorrie, physical education department chairmen, have worked out a split-second schedule to serve everybody. "That schedule is down to a gnat's eyebrow," says Mrs. Hazel Bole, vice principal.

ENCANTO TO GET PARK VIA FEDERAL FUNDS

WASHINGTON - Special Government approval of matching funds for a much-needed recreation building in Encanto's community park was predicted this week by Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, 37th District congressman.

The $151,000 project is one of nearly a dozen in and around San Diego which Van Deerlin says he has been pushing for a share of money remaining in Accelerated Public Work funds. Federal portion of the Encanto community center would be $75,000.

FUTURE COLLEGE — Artist's conception of the new $7.5 million Grossmont College campus to be built in Fletcher Hills. Advertising for bids will begin in mid-October and bids will open by November 12. The new campus, which will serve 2,500 students and eventually 4,000, is scheduled for completion by August 1, 1964.

Plans Approved

Junior College Bids To Open in November

Building designs for the new $1.5 million Grossmont College campus in Fletcher Hills were approved last week by the State Fire Marshall's Office and the California State Division of Architecture.

Advertising for bids should begin in the middle of October and bids should open November 11 or 12, John S. Hansen, Grossmont College president, said this week.

The Fire Marshall's Office earlier disapproved the plans because some minor fire precaution changes were necessary in the design, Hansen said. The Fire Marshall's Office recommended more sprinklers, added aisles between seats in lecture halls and a safer fire proofing material for walls.

Richard George Wheeler and Associates, architects for the college, and Petes Siebke, project architect, secured final approval October 1 of revised plans from the Fire Marshall's Office and the State Division of Architecture, Hansen reported. Revisions now are being incorporated into the architect's design.

The new campus, scheduled for completion by August 1, 1964, will accomodate 2,500 full-time students and eventually 4,000 Hansen said. "We expect 2,300 day students to enroll next fall," he added.

Construction, which Hansen said should begin by the first of December, includes administration, fine arts, academic and technology-science centers scheduled to be completed by August 1, 1964.

A gynasium, which will seat 2,000 and will have 10 badminton courts, and a student center are scheduled for completion by October 1, 1964; and a physical education locker building and library for September 1.

The campus is being financed by local funds and by an estimated $400,000 allotment to Grossmont College under State Proposition 1-A, Hansen said.

Civil Rights Is 'White Problem' Men's Club Told

The Lemon Grove Men's Club came face-to-face with civil rights Friday when the Rev. George Walker Smith, a Negro minister of San Diego, convinced most members that there is actually a "white problem."

Rev. Smith is running for the San Diego Board of Education in District E. which includes Encanto and Lomita Village, both adjacent to Lemon Grove.

Rev. Smith, who is a "moderate", said a "radical group" of Negroes had commanded most of the headlines in the present civil rights revolution, and radical or not, they must be dealt with. "If I am defeated in the Board of Education race, the radical Negro group will charge that it is impossible to be a moderate in a white man's world."

The civil rights revolution, Smith said, is also an economic revolution. Unemployment among colored people is 20 per cent; among whites, 6 per cent. "Such disparity breeds revolt," he pointed out.

President Kennedy's civil rights legislation is in trouble because it is insincere, Smith said. The Republicans failed to profit because they did not move into the vacuum created by the administration's fumbling with civil rights, he said.

Democratic leaders see a 54 per cent favorable vote because of the Negro vote when white voters are going to the polls, the Negro is going fishing, due to civil rights bumbling, Smith added.

Smith received a rousing ovation. "Civil rights does not appear to be an insoluble problem after hearing him (Rev. Smith) talk," one member said.

Friday, state Senator Jack Schrade will be speaker, according to John Bridger, program chairman. Sen. Schrade will be the guest of Bob Howell.

L.G. Lady To Be Named TV 'Queen'

Tickets went on sale this week for Lemon Grove Day at the nationally televised Queen for a Day program.

Lemon Grove ladies will be honored at the popular Hollywood show on Wednesday, Nov. 20th, according to Jesse E. Lee, operator of the L.G. Travel Bureau.

The tour is being sponsored by the L.G. Chamber of Commerce as a money-raising project. Lee was named chairman of the tour by Chamber President Sam Pernicano.

Lee said 22 Greyhound buses had been reserved to carry an estimated 800 ladies to the show. A Lemon Grove woman will be selected as "Queen" during the mid-day show, he said.

Buses will leave the U.S. National Bank parking lot at 8 a.m. and will return to the same spot at 5 p.m. Luncheon is optional. Either a box lunch may be carried or laides may dine at Hollywood's Moulin Rouge, where the show will be conducted.

Tickets may be obtained at the L.G. Travel Bureau, the L.G. Chamber of Commerce office, at the office of this newspaper or at Pernicano's.

LG Boundary Errors Found; SV's Okayed

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The County Boundary Commission Monday approved the proposal boundaries of the City of Spring Valley, but returned a proposal for a new City of Lemon Grove to its proponnents for additional corrections.

Rudolph Benitez, commission engineer, told the commission that the Lemon Grove proposal had been prepared too quickly and contained too many errors.

Many of the errors occurred because Lemon Grove boundaries ran along the middle of streets, which is illegal, Benitez said. The proposed City of Lemon Grove is using boundaries similar to those of the L.G. School District.

The 5,000-acre Spring Valley incorporation proposal was approved with only minor corrections necessary. This proposal includes most of the area east of Sweetwater rd. in Spring Valley, La Presa and Casa de Oro eastward to Avocado Boulevard and about a quarter of a mile north of Highway 94.

Jack Mulgrew, chief deputy county surveyor, made a motion that the City of Lemon Grove proponents revise their boundaries to include University ave. that borders La Mesa.

Other road problems also were included in Mulgrew's proposal to avoid overlapping between jurisdictions and also to avoid creating any county islands between the cities.

Lemon Grove will be in the area between Spring Valley, San Diego and La Mesa with one long peninsula of unincorporated area reaching in from the northeast from Mount Helix into the intersection of Campo rd., Broadway and the freeway.

Benitez said he thought the haste to beat the deadline for formation of the New Agency Formation Commission had probably caused many of the mistakes. Incorporation proponents have wanted to avoid the purisdiction of the new super-agency, which will have the right to approve, disapprove or change the shape of incorporations and annexations after it is formed November 20.

Mayors Appointed To Super Agency

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The City of San Diego threw its support Tuesday behind the appointment of Oceanside Mayor Irwin Sklar and La Mesa Mayor Ray Fellows to the new super agency which will control annexations and incorporations in the county.

Vice-Mayor Cecil F. Allen of National City was favored as the alternate.

The San Diego City Council instructed Vice-Mayor Harry Scheidle to support the three appointments, which have been favored by other cities.

The mayors of all the cities must appoint two members and an alternate to the new commission by November 20.

The county has named Robert C. Cozens and David W. Bird as representatives of the County Board of Supervisors.

The alternate member from the cities will serve when any annexation concerning one of the regular commissioners is considered.

Helen Cobb, councilman, reported to the council that the three people had been supported by most of the other cities.

The four regular commissioners will same a fifth member from the public-at-large.

The new commission will have the power to change the shape of any annexations or incorporations other than school districts and also to approve or disapprove them before the affected agencies can act.

The new commission has been bitterly assailed by some of the cities as a threat to home rule.

Parade Called Off; Not Enough Cars

The Parade of new Fords, sponsored jointly by Spears Ford in Lemon Grove and the Merchants Division of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, was cancelled suddenly Friday.

When Spears manager Pat Grace started gathering together the cars which were to have paraded down Broadway at 7:30 p.m., he found that his sales staff had done too good a job during the week. There were not enough cars to make a parade.

"We want to apologize to those who were waiting to see the parade but we couldn't conscientiously parade with too few cars. We would have been lost in the traffic.

"The tickets for the Ace Drive-in theatre are valid and we hope everyone driving a Ford of any vintage takes advantage of them." (Free tickets were distributed by local business firms as part of the project.)

"We should have another shipment of 1964 Fords in this week so that a complete line of models and body styles may be viewed at the Lemon Grove agency," Grace said.

Information To Be Mailed on Hi School District Election

At the regular meeting of the Grossmont Union High School District Monday evening, Superintendent Lewis F. Smith reported on the October 29 school election campaign.

Smith said plans for a mailing to registered voters would be followed by delivery of additional information to voters by precinct contact teams organized at each of the high schools except in El Cajon Valley where the election will be coordinated with that of Cajon Valley Elementary Echools.

He emphasized that it was necessary to get the information to the voters that the district was not asking for an increase in its operating levy and that approval of the bonds would not increase the bond rate paid by the taxpayers in the district.

The bond program includes a repayment in full of $2,900,000 owed to the state which probably will lower interest rates.

Success Reported

The board also received reports on curriculum developments from Dr. Leon Lessinger. One of these is a program for the disinterested, apathetic student. Thirty students were enrolled in a program, under the leadership of George Glaeser, John Kleinfelter, Donald Tarr and Mrs. Virginia Clapp, with the approach of understanding the point of view of the disinterested student.

Success was reported in motivating these students to an interest in their educational program through better understanding of the individual student and through emphasis upon the vocational aspects of the high school program.

The project has been described in a report which will be made available to all teachers and vocational counselors in the district. "This project was conducted under National Defense Education Act funds," Dr. Lessinger said.

English Made Interesting

Lessinger also reported the development of a program in literature for applied arts students — students who are not planning to attend college. This project, under the leadership of Juanita Halliburton, aims at making the study of English literature and writing more interesting and more effective for the student who is too often bored with his English classes.

A report on the new emphasis in geography instruction at the ninth grade level was submitted by John Logsdon, teacher at El Cajon Valley high school.

Foreign Language Problem

Assistant Superintendent John T. Warburton reported on the problem of the high schools in coping with the recent development in foreign language programs for elementary and junior high schools.

Warburton said meetings had been held with all of the schools which contribute students to the Grossmont District in an effort to learn of these new programs and how the high school program can be adjusted for advanced placement of students coming from these new programs.

A new state law has made foreign lanuage mandatory for at least 20 minutes per day for 6th, 7th, and 8th graders.

Mrs. Marie Madson and Mrs. Marjorie Thomas reported on their work with physically handicapped and ill students during the 1962-63 year. Their report shows that 166 students were served during the year and two-thirds of them were for periods of less than two months.

Over 50 were enrolled for half a year or more. Individual instruction is provided in order to enable students to make up work lost while ill.

Pat's Words—Deeds Are Different

As you pay a penny more tax on each gallon of gasoline as you have been doing since October 1st., and as you dig for sales tax on carry-out food, which you started doing in mid-September, recall the ringing words of that great and fearless governor of the glorious state of California, who said, just prior to being re-elected that there'd be no new taxes during his regine.

Grouping Helps Youngsters To Learn

Here is another in a series of articles on school operation. This one has to do with grouping of youngsters and the material is supplied by the Education News Service.

School children come in assorted shapes and sizes. They also come with an assortment of capabilities. Some are smart, some not so smart. Certain things interest some but not others. Certain things motivate some but not others.

The problem of the public schools is how to group all these youngsters in ways best calculated to help them learn, taking into consideration their differences.

Probably no two school systems in California approach the problem in exactly the same way, so diverse are the theories about grouping and so wide the range of possibilities. But one thing seems pretty certain: The practice of grouping is followed in one way or another in practically all schools. Gone are the simple, uncomplicated days of yesteryear when children whose last names started with A through M were put in one classroom and the N's through Z's were put in another.

Why grouping? Because the public schools have the job of educating all the children of all the people and are thus more crowded than they've ever been. "Years ago, for instance, only a small percentage of youngsters went on to high school," explained a school administrator. "Now we get them all, or nearly all. When you approach that many children, some of them able to read well, some reading not so well, some facile with figures, other baffled by figures - when you have such a variety, you take them in segments. You don't try to meet the needs of them all in the same way."

It might seem a fairly simple thing to group children. It isn't, though. It's complicated, because human beings are complicated.

"Even when we group them," said an elementary administra-

Captain Completes Fire UC Prevention Seminar

Captain Stanley W. Mourning, fire marshall of the Spring Valley Fire Department, recently received a certificate of completion for attending a fire prevention seminar July 15-19.

He received the certificate last week at the regular meeting of the S.V. Board of Directors.

The seminar, held at the University of California at Berkeley, was sponsored by the Bureau of Industrial Education of the State of California under the direction of Thomas S. Ward, supervisor of fire training.

It covered subjects including new legislation, eliminating electrical hazards, coordination of fire and building officials, fire extinguishers, analysis of bulk plant fires, a hospital fire safety program, handling dangerous chemicals, special hazard protection, planned escape from fire, and others.

The seminar was designed to make available to fire departments information on the physical properties and related hazards of chemicals and materials now being developed.

Fireman Will Burn Your Tumbleweeds

The Lemon Grove Fire Department, which last week earned local fire insurance buyers a lower rate because of a National Rating Board efficiency rating, this week is offering an added bonus.

The Department, marking National Fire Prevention Week Oct. 7-12, will burn all tumbleweeds (Russian thistle) in the Lemon Grove Fire District

The only qualification, said Fire Marshal Raymond Carmody, who is in charge of the project, is that the tumble weed must be raked into a pile.

If they are raked while green the seeds will not reproduce next year, he reminded.

For thistle-burning service, thistle-rakers may call Marshal Carmody at 466-0564.

The service is free of charge and is being co-sponsored by the L.G. Kiwanis Club's Con-

Battery Suspect Says He Didn't Threaten Wife

John Joseph Blecha, Jr., told this newspaper this week that he did not threaten his wife with a knife before being apprehended by the Sheriff's deputies September 29.

Blecha said that he was at the home of his wife, Diane Irene Blecha of 7560 North ave., Saturday night. They are going through divorce procedures.

When Mrs. Blecha asked him to leave,Blecha said he took the stereo from the house and put it in his car. He said his wife tried to close the back door on him, but his elbow broke the glass and he reached through and unlocked the door.

We were standing beside a kitchen drawer when she threatened me," Blecha asserted. He said he took a kichen knife out of the drawer and held it out to her. He placed the knife on her folded arms and said it dropped to the floor. Blecha explained that he then put it back in the drawer.

Before leaving the house, a fight followed in which Blecha said his wife struck him with the handle of a child's stick horse. "It almost knocked me out," he claimed.

When he returned to his car and saw Sheriff's deputies arriving, he sped off allegedly at speeds of 110 along Highway 94 before being cornered at Euclid.

He was arrested on charges of battery, reckless driving, two speed violations, failure to yield to red lights and siren, threatening with a knife and disturbing the peace.

He was found guilty on two counts at El Cajon Municipal Court on assault and battery and reckless driving.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WOMAN RECEIVES HELP

DEAR EDITOR:

All too seldom nowadays is there a person found who is interested enough in helping others to go out of his way to do so.

During the last torrid spell, on a blistering Wednesday when everything went wrong, I had occasion to have help offered me by strangers who didn't even know my name.

One was Mrs. Blaine, who manages the Lemon Grove Junior high cafetorium.

I cannot drive at night due to increasing eye troble, and so must depend on my family or friends when necessary.

I had expected to attend a meeting which I understood was at the aforementioned school. My son dropped me off and went on.

The meeting wasn't there, but Mrs. Blaine was. She not only offered me the use of the phone, but went out of her way to find out my difficulty, and by phoning her friends, find out where the meeting was. She also gave me directions how to get there. Despite the temper rousing heat she was courteous, kind and very pleasant. How I appreciated it!

After the meeting, my son was not in the parking lot to pick me up.I ran from one lot to the other thinking he might have forgotten where he said he'd pick me up. One of the custodians noticed my back and forthness and asked if I had lost my car.

When I told him my latest difficulty he offered to open a room and iet me use a phone. I am sure I kept him there, as I was about the last to leave.

I did not get his name, I am sorry to say, but he does have my gratitude for his welcome help. This was at the Lemon Avenue School in La Mesa.

Episodes like this leave a warm glow for months to follow.

Sincerely,
Mrs. G. G. Walker
1632 Watwood, L.G.

Dear Editor:

Who figures out the method for scheduling in our schools?

We are the parents of eight kindergarten students living within one block of the San Altos School, yet our children are being sent several miles away to Vista La Mesa School.

Practically every other student attending San Altos School lives farther from the school than we do. It would seem that the children living closest to Vista La Mesa School would be sent there. This is an idiotic waste of the pupils' time, the taxpayers money, and it irritates the parents of the effected students.

My property ajoins that of the San Altos School, and yet this is the second year in a row that I have been unable to have one of my children attend the kindergarten classes at the San Altos School. In fact, last year the kindergarten classes in the entire Lemon Grove School District were so overcrowded that my daughter had to attend a school in the La Mesa - Spring Valley School District. I ask you, is this fair?

We are not attempting to be malicious in sending you this letter. It is just that we think the public should know that such a condition exists.

Knowing that during the last few years they had a shortage of kindergarten teachers in the district, you would think they would plan ahead and hire an ample number of teachers.

The Lemon Grove School District can be sure that if they do not see fit to run their district in a more efficient manner that they will not have the taxpayers behind them at the next election.

Very truly yours,

ED'S. NOTE: The L.G. School Board approved a four room addition to San Altos school at its Sept. 30 meeting.

Why Can't The People Have Bus Service.

DEAR EDITOR:

On June 11, 1963, the San Diego Economy Bus Line filed to extend its bus service from the intersection of Challenge blvd. and Avocado blvd. into Lakeside, via Avocado blvd., Washington ave., Second st., Winter Gardens blvd., Woodside ave., River st. to Maine ave. in Lakeside. The return route to San Diego is by the way of Casa de Oro, Spring Valley, Lemon Grove, College Grove Shopping Center into the City of San Diego.

The San Diego Transit System has filed a protest against this proposed extension. Their service is one-half of a mile away from this proposed extension.

Since the time that the San Diego Electric Railway sold its interest to the San Diego Transit System, the San Diego Economy Bus Line has not had much of a chance to expand their service to the people.

The stockholders of the San Diego Economy Bus Line met with Assemblyman Clair Burgener and brought to his attention how the bus firm was being squeezed out of business.

There will be a public hearing in the Council Chambers, City Hall, 270 Highland ave., at 9:30 a.m., October 15 in El Cajon. All interested parties are invited to appear and voice their opinion.

If this extension was not granted, it could put a hardship on the existing operation of the San Diego Economy Line, Inc.

Freddie L. Allen,
President

tor, "we still have to work with individuals and individual differences within the group. Also children don't stay sorted. They're one way in one area of endeavor and a different way in a different area of endeavor.

"A pupil may be a fast learner in one subject and slow in others. Or a strong drive in some particular area - something that strikes a spark in him — may enable him to go far beyond his apparent ability."

Not only are the mind and personality of the child considered in grouping him but the mind and personality of the teacher as well. Certain children, whatever their IQ's, work better with one kind of teacher than another. One child needs a firm hand. Another needs lots of latitude. One needs discipline. Another needs empathy. If a school is doing its grouping wisely (and is large enough in the first place to justify grouping), it will be matching the right youngsters with the right teachers wherever possible.

Censorship Can Cost You Your Freedom and Your Life

Only the Kremlin and the tight knot of President Kennedy's intimates knew that a 500-kiloton blast was exploded over the South Pole by the Soviets, presumably, on August 3rd. this year.

Strictest censorship was kept on the explosion which carried a wallop 25 times more powerful than the Hiroshima bomb.

The explosion was revealed only last week and few of the details are yet available. The Administration intentionally held up this intelligence until 24 hours after the U.S. Senate had approved the bomb treaty.

The story of the bomb was revealed by Earl H. Voss in the Washington, D.C. Evening Star the day after the treaty was ratified. Voss said that a government official said the news had been purposely held up until the treaty was approved.

The implication is that the ratification of the treaty might have been viewed differently had the whole story been known by the lawmakers. Rep. James D. Weaver, (R-Pa.) is reported by the Republican Congressional Committee as saying, "This immoral censorship of news so vital to the security of the U.S. constitutes a gross deception of the American people and the Senate. Had the Senate been provided complete information on this explosion, the outcome of its vote on the treaty might well have been different."

A frightening revelation is that if the explosion were man-made and of nuclear origin, there was practically no fall-out. This leads us to suspect that the Soviets have developed a "clean" bomb, maybe one of an entirely different type. It also means that people, retaliatory installations, and defense facilities could be obliterated and the Soviets could move their ground forces in right away with victory certain.

Adding to the consternation is the language of the report which says "if it were man-made," as if deliberately trying to confuse us.

It is felt that Congressmen would have demanded more testing and more nuclear development had they known about the new type of nuclear explosive.

We see no reason other than that for forcing through the Administration's determinations for keeping this terrible fact censored and the confusing the issue when found out.

It is a sad commentary on the depths to which our leaders go to keep you from knowing. It is unhappier still, because it comes just as National Newspaper Week is about to start.

Medical Insurance Plan To Continue

The Grossmont Union High School District Governing Board met at Mount Miguel high school before an attendance of approximately 50 citizens last Monday evening. The meeting was scheduled there at the invitation of Mrs. Donald Beebe, president of the Mount Miguel PTA.

The board approved a continuation of the employes' major medical insurance coverage with Pacific Mutual which continues an existing schedule of medical and hospitalization coverage at the same rate in effect during the last year.

The district assumes the cost of employee coverage at $7.92 per month. The individual employe pays the complete coverage for any dependents to be included in the plan.

The plan operates on the basis of a $50 deductible for the employee but is limited to $150 for a family, 80 per cent of hospitalization costs and doctor fees based on a 1960 relative value schedule. Under the major feature, coverage is limited to $20,000 in any calendar year.

Administration Commended

The board commended the administration for the program which concentrates upon acedemic and occupational studies. A number of students who were drop-outs in high school have come back through the Adult Education Program to complete high school and receive a high school diploma and to qualify for advanced study or employment opportunities.

Funds Transfer Asked

A temporary transfer of funds in the amount of $1,500,000 was requested of the Board of Supervisors to enable the district to meet its payroll and bills pending the arrival in the county treasury of funds from the state apportionments and from the collection of the local property taxes.

The anticipated limit for such transfer was estimated by Associate Superintendent Harold G. Hughes at two months.

A report on cafeteria operations for last year indicated slightly above the break-even point for the seven cafeterias. It is the policy of the district to operate the cafeterias as a food service to students at cost.

The board objects to a profit or a loss. Board member Robert P. Dryden said his visits to school cafeterias showed that the food and service was very satisfactory.

PTA Groups Study Tax, Bond Issue

Mount Miguel high school parents and teachers are studying two proposals that would renew the present operating tax in Grossmont Union High School District schools and authorizes $4.4 million for a new high school in Santee.

Voters of the district will be asked in a special October 29 election to renew, beginning in July, the present operating tax rate of $1.50 for each $100 of assessed valuation. The district presently operates at a budget rate of $1.25.

Approval of the bonds by a two-thirds majority will enable the district to build a new high school in Santee to ease the overcrowed condition at El Capitan.

Sponsored by the study groups at Mt. Miguel high are the PTA and Grossmont District Committee for Good Schools.

Russel Savage, principal at El Capitan, told members of the Mt. Miguel PTA last week that El Capitan already has 300 more students than it was built to serve. "By '67 we'll have over 1200," he said. "Half-day sessions are a possibility at that rate!"

Mt. Miguel presently has an enrollment of 2300, 100 over its capacity, but overcrowding at Mt. Miguel cannot be alleviated until the crises at El Capitan is first met, Savage explained.

Part of the $4.4 million bond proposal would be used to repay an existing state loan to lower interest rates being paid on funds used to build El Capitan, Granite Hills, Monte Vista and additions to Grossmont, Helix and El Cajon Valley high.

Approval of the bonds also would allow the district to continue borrowing from the state at a repayment rate 12 cents lower than otherwise. Failure to repay the loan would impose a higher tax rate.

George Birch, Grossmont trustee, will meet with parents of seniors at Mt. Miguel high October 16, and John Hansen, Grossmont College president, will meet with senior parents October 28.

UCS KICKOFF — Lemon Grove members of the Commerce and Industry Division in the United Community Services Fund campaign met with Paul Reynolds, C & I chairman at 10:30 a.m. October 4 for their official campaign kick-off. Pictured at the meeting were, left to right sitting, Paul Reynolds, Mrs. R. J. Collette, Jim Collette and Mrs. A. Mangano. Standing, from left, Doug. Siles, Wiley Cornelius, Mrs. R. L. Dr. Brumbaugh Named County Medical Delegate

Dr. Simon C. Brumbaugh, Jr., a Lemon Grove doctor, is serving as a delegate to the 15th Annual Assembly of the Calif. Academy of General Parctice to be held Oct. 20-23 at the convention center of El Cortez hotel.

Dr. Brumbaugh, associated with the L.G. Medical Group, will be one of three County doctors to serve as a delegate.

Out of state medical authorities who will lecture are Walter J. Reich, professor of gynecology, Cook County Graduate School, Chicago; Robert B. Lawson, chairman of pediatrics, Northwestern University, Chicago; Emerson Day, Medical Director of Strang Clinic, New York; Philip Thorek, professor of surgery, Cook County Graduate School, Chicago; Petter A. Lindstrom, chairman division of neurological surgery, University of Utah; and Irvine H. Page, director of research, Cleveland Clinic.

The California Academy of General Practice, a chapter of the American Academy of General Practice, is comprised of family doctors, or doctors who do not limit themselves to one particular field of medicine or surgery. Unlike any other medical organization, its members must spend time away from their practice each year taking postgraduate studies in order to retain their membership.

Top Contest To Tax Local Talent

The top, a favorite plaything back in granddad's day, is gaining new popularity as a result of the annual Duncan Spin Top Contest which takes place each year in September and October.

Preliminary training and first round contests for the Spin Top Contest in La Mesa will begin October 11 at 3:30 p.m. at the La Mesa Youth and Recreation Center, according to Skip Fenn, sports supervisor for the Park and Recreation Department.

Boys and girls under 16 years old who plan to enter the contest must learn to demonstrate skill in eight spin top tricks: the spinner, target shoot, bullseye, big scoop, sky rocket, boomerang, thru the tunnel, man on the flying trapese.

Trophies and prizes will be awarded to local winers. In ad? dition, the local champion will be eligible to compete in the California Regional Finals October 19 in San Diego.

Griffin Harrier Coach Hopeful

Grossmont College cross country coach, Mickey Shelley, is optomistic about his team's chances this season in the Eastern Conference even though the Griffins are competing in probably the toughest junior college cross country circuit in the nation.

Shelly's unit finished fourth last weekend in the junior college division at the Long Beach invitational at Long Beach State College.

Pierce JC won with Santa Ana, the Griffins toughest competitors, second followed by Cerritos.

Because of his squad's high finish in the invitational and tie they achieved with Santa Ana the week before, he feels that the nucleus of Jack Elmore, Bob Johnson, who finished third in individual standing at the Long Beach affair, Ed Matheus, Don Phillips and John Galvin could possibly win the conference championship.

French Students Treated To Snails

By Anna Walden

"Les escargots are sold on stands on the street all over France, just as you sell newspapers here in America," claims Mrs. Marie Ermenkov, French teacher at Monte Vista. "They are a great delicacy like lobster and frog legs."

Less escargots are snails. Mrs Ermenkov lectured her French II students on the art of preparing and eating the delicacy.

"In France, snails are a great deal of work for the housewife; she must buy them in the shell and cook them in a broth."

In America, the snails are precooked and canned. They are packaged in a box with the shells.

American housewives have only to make a butter sauce with a little garlic, parsley, pepper, salt, and nutmeg, she said. The snails are placed in the shells with a little of the sauce and baked for about 10 minutes.

According to Mrs. Ermenkov, the snails taste like oysters.

"In America, there is a gadget for everything," quipped Mrs. Ermenkov — "In France everything is done according to tradition.

"Well, the French have a gadget for this! The snails are eaten from a special dish, with indentations so the shells won't tip and spill. They are picked up wits special tongs, to prevent burned fingers, and eaten with tiny, two pronged forks. The connoisseur may drink the sauce from the shell after the snail is eaten."

"Snails are eaten as hors d'oeuvres," concluded Mrs. Ermenkov, "accompanied by a dry, white wine."

Boxes which include the canned, pre-cooked snails and shells may be purchased at any delicatessen.

Talent Needed for 'Man Called Peter'

Actors are needed for "The Man Called Peter," a play being sponsored by the La Mesa Recreation-Park Department.

Residents 14-35 years old who would like to participate in the little theater production should contact Joe Woodard, La Mesa Little Theater director, at 469-4128.

Interested actors also may audition at rehearsals the next two Saturdays at the Fine Arts Center, 8053 University, between 9 a.m. and noon.

Royal Family of Guitar To Start Concert Season

The first presentation of the Grossmont Community Concert Association for the 1963-1964 season will be a concert by the Romeros, guitarits, October 14 at 8:15 p.m. in the Grossmont high school auditorium.

In a sucession of triumphant appearances throughout the country, the Romero family, during their first season, performed on three network TV shows, gave two Town Hall Concerts, performed for the New York Philharmonic Symphony Society, recorded three albums and finished the season with a concert at the Seattle World's Fair.

The San Francisco Chronicle called the Romeros "A family dynasty of guitar perfection . . . has to be heard to be believed. Also "It is more than a little unusual to see a father and his three sons sharing a concert stage. It is even more unusual to discover these sons are not only highly talented, but each is blessed with a unique musical personality of his own, even though they play the same instrument. What is most unusual of all is to find in four persons such unified and single-minded dedication to musicianship as that shown by the Fabulous Romeros, the Royal Family of the Guitar."

Now residents of Los Angeles, the Romeros until recently only concertized in Spain. Caledonio Romero, the father, began his study of the classic guitar at the age of three and graduated from the Madrid Conservatory as one of his country's leading instrumentalists. The boys started practicing scales as soon as they could hold a guitar.

The guitars used by the Romeros are made by Miguel Rodriques of Cordoba and are produced at the rate of ten a year. They are known for an extremely powerful tone which never sounds matallic.

Bruce Reagan To Speak to United GOPs

....United Republicans of Lemon Grove will hold their monthly meeting at College Grove Community Hall Oct. 17 at 7:30, Tom Clabby announced this week.

"We have invited Bruce Reagan, our state chairman, and Rus Walton, executive secretary, to speak and explain the important role UROC will play in coming election of 1964 and why it is the fastest growing political organization in the nation," Clabby said.

"We expect to work with other officials and volunteer groups within the Republican Party. We hope to bring new people into party affairs and to in use new blood, new ideas, new life and new victory.

Presently only about one out of every 29 registered Republicans in this state is active in any organized statewide party groups. UROC seeks to involve as many of the 28 "idle" Republicans as possible, he concluded.

William V. Rourke, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Been of Elm Grove Trailer ct., Lemon Grove, is serving with the Air Anti-Submarine Squadron 35 currently deployed aboard a West Coast aircraft carrier in the Pacific.

Phone Answering Service Starts

A fully transisterized telephone answering unit has been established at 3823 El Cajon blvd. as the Phoneminder Secretary of San Diego.

The automatic unit automatically answers the phone, greets the caller and records the message, according to Len Snipper, partner and service manager of the new enterprise. He said the unit features a remote control key the size of a cigarette pack which permits customers to receive messages from anywhere in the world.

The unit is built by Imperial Thermal Systems which manufactures thermal units for the Atlas and Thor rockets.

Steve Lord, general manager, said Phoneminder is an economical, convenient way to solve phone answering problems for businessmen, doctors, lawyers and all one-man businesses and offices.

ASB President Tours Sacramento With Bert Betts

Don Howarth, 17, president of the associated student body at Mt. Miguel high school, represented his high school this past summer at Boy's State in Sacramento.

Boy's State, an eight day affair sponsored by the American Legion, is designed to familiarize high school leaders with the functions of state government. Don was sponsored by the La Mesa Post, American Legion, and attended the confab with 800 other boys from high schools all over the state.

During his capital visit, Don received a special audience and tour of the State Capitol by Bert A. Betts, state treasurer from Lemon Grove. Betts' daughter was a classmate of Don's at Mt. Miguel last year.

At Boy's State, Don was a candidate for the governor's office. During their program, the boys are divided into Whig and Federalist parties and actually have a model convention in which they elect officers and establish a model government at the state level.

Don, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman B. Howarth, 8903 Harness dr., Spring Valley, was recently elected president of the California Scholastic Federation, Mt. Miguel chapter, and is a member of the Math Club.

Punters, Passers To Vie This Week

Rotarian Abe Mukai, a Lemon Grove rancher, has been named competition director for the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley Punt, Pass & Kick Program, it has been announced by Lloyd Fish, sales manager of Spears Ford sponsor of the program in Lemon Grove.

Co-sponsor here is Lemon Grove Rotary club.

Mukai reminded contestants that the date has been changed to Saturday.

As competition director, Mukai will be responsible for all arrangements for the contest which puts boys 8 through 11 against others in the age groups in tests of their abilities to punt, pass and kick (using a kicking tee) football for distance and accuracy.

The L.G. - S.V. competition will be held Saturday, October 12 at 1 p.m. at the L.G. Junior high school playgrounds.

It was originally scheduled for Friday, but Fish ordered the competition to be held Saturday due to so many conflicting plans of the youngsters.

"It is a great honor and pleasure to be asked to help make the Punt, Pass & Kick Program a success," Mukai said. 'President Kennedy has said this type of program will enable our nation's youth to build their energy and strength, which is highly important; moreover, I know all the boys who enter will have a lot of fun, and I hope every grade school boy within the age limits will want to practice up and compete for the many prizes and trophies in this great national competition."

Registrations for the program, which features expense-paid trips to National Football League games for area winners culminating with trips to Washington, D.C., and to Dearborn, Michigan, and a "play-off" at the National Football League Championship games for eight finalists, will be open right up to "kick-off" time.

A parent must accompany each registrant.

Los Toros Teams Stomp Opponents In Grid Action

Team work, it takes team work. That's what Shorty Bannister, coach of the Pop Warner Bantam team, said this week as his team went into action last Saturday and trounced Clairemont 20 to nothing.

Likewise, Spring Valley-Lemon Grove Pop Warner gridders of other teams in the Los Toros Football Club hit harder in football action last Saturday.

The Los Toros Midget team put Grossmont out of action in a 37 to nothing game, and the local Pee Wee A team stomped Grossmont 68 to nothing.

The only Los Toros team that had any reason to feel bad last Saturday was the Pee Wee B team which lost to San Dieguito 42 to 13.

The Pee Wee A team will play Clairemont this Saturday at 1 p.m. on the Mt. Miguel high school field. The Midgets will take on South Bay at Los Palmas Park in National City at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, and the Bantams will try to hold their 2-0 lead when they meet Allied Gardens at 2:30 p.m. on the Mt. Miguel field.

Indian Falls Camp Will Open in Nov.

Indian Falls Camp will open for the third year in a row November 1 in the El Cajon foothills.

Weekend camping is scheduled for youngsters 7 to 9 years of age under adequate supervision. Only small groups will be accepted each week so that individual attention can be given, according to Mrs. Wilbur Folsom.

In the environment of ranch living, youngsters ride horses, ponies and burros. They enjoy all the normal barnyard pets plus hiking, cook-outs, camp fire fun and story hours.

The camp is a private, Christian, non-denominational one. Applications may be obtained from Mrs. Folsom at P.O. box 1, Grossmont, California.

Around The World Study Tour

Four Matadors Receive Seven Seas Scholarships

Four June graduates of Mount Miguel high school are beginning to believe that there is an Aladdin's lamp!

When Karen Dahl, Gary Beebe, Tom Longpap and Mike Cosby learned that they were the recipients of $1,000 scholarships from the University of the Seven Seas, they "couldn't believe it — and neither could our parents!"

But dreams became reality when the first typhus and cholera shots began working.

"My arm is so sore," moaned Karen, but her masculine friends played down the ache in the arm for the 'ache' of getting released from college commitments— no small achievement for Tom Langpop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Langpap of 1534 Koe, Lemon Grove; Mike Cosby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cosby, 8277 Golden, Lemon Grove; and Gary Beebe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Beebe, 1520 Watwood Road, Lemon Grove, who had already begun classes.

All four plan to take plenty of color film, as well as black-and-white. "I had to sell my surfboard to have spending money," Gary said, "so let's hope I get some good pictures!" He can get help from the three full-time professional photographers who will take pictures for the official newspaper and yearbook that shipboard students will produce, as well as make filmstrips to be used later. Gary's plans for Hawaii in Hawaii involve buying a new surfboard and "hoping to hit the big surf in Hawaii."

Karen plans to do some shopping when class and individual sightseeing and interviewing allow her to. A music student, she also plans to practice on her flute as much as possible.

The ship will be on the high seas for one full semester after sailing from New York Octbore 22. Credits for coursese taken aboard ship will be accepted by most universities and colleges in the U.S., according to Don Amundson, one of the instructors for the University of the Seven Seas.

While all four admit that they're "terribly excited" about traveling to places like Kong Kong, Bangkok, Koala Lumpur and Singapore, they agree that the Holy Land will have a powerful attraction for them.

Amundson added that "these are the only four scholarships awarded in the Grossmont area this year. We hope that this will encourage other students to apply for scholarships next year."

'Waiting for Godot' Is First Griffin Production

A tragicomedy by a baffling writer who has been called the leader of the "School of the Absurd" will be the frist production of the Grossmont College Griffin players.

Samuel Beckett's "Waiting for Godot" will be presented October 16-19 at 8 p.m., in the El Cajon high school little theatre.

Beckett, an Irish-Frenchman, was born in Dublin in 1906. During World War II he served as an interpreter and storekeeper in the Irish Red Cross. After the war he gained fame for his trrlogy of novels, "Malone", "Malone Dies" and the "Unnameable". "Waiting for Godot" ran for more than 300 performances in Paris.

Roles in the Griffin Players' production of the all-male play will be played by Bill Poshman, Scott Rushing, Richard Wagell and John Anderson.

All seats must be reserved by telephone, 465-1700, through the Student Affairs Office. Tickets will be paid for and handed out at the theatre. For part-time students and the general public, tickets are $1.50.

Hi School Library Started With 300 Books—Now 8,000

From an inadequate beginning of 300 books and a limited budget seven years ago, Mount Miguel's library now shelves over 8,000 books.

It has amassed countless reference books and magazines of interest to teachers as well as students. Enriching the academic curriculum with sufficient audio-visual equipment are film strips, records, and tape recordings, available to teachers for their classes. These extra sources of knowledge range from languages to Julius Caesar and even folk songs.

One of the more recent additions to the library is a collection of mounted pictures and posters for use in classroom bulletin boards and walls. Partial credit for this assemblage goes to Dany Landgraf, a junior at Mt Miguel, who mounted all of the posters.

Mrs. Jeanette Rambatt, director of the library, pointed out that "there is an obvious lack of space which seems to grow worse each year. In many instances, important reference material is unable to be filed properly and must be stacked in piles. This, besides giving the storage rooms an untidy appearance, makes it more difficult to locate such material."

Mrs. Rambatt also emphasized that work orders for more storage area have been submitted.

Chargers To Meet Jets Here Sunday

SAN DIEGO — The San Diego Chargers and the New York Jets, leading teams in the Western and Eastern Divisions of the American Football League, will attempt to lend a line on the relative strengths of the two conferences when they meet here October 13 in Balboa Stadium. Kick-off time is 1:30 p.m.

ABC television will relay the action into the New York area, while the Chargers' radio network (KFMB, 540 kilocycles locally) will get a game description from Lyle Bond, play-by-play and Lute Mason, color.

As a part of their community and military relations programs, the Chargers will salute the cities of El Cajon, La Mesa and Lakeside and the Naval Air Force, U. S. Pacific Fleet.

New York, resurgent under the leadership of General Manager-Head Coach Weeb Ewbank, rests atop the Eastern Division with a 3-1 mark off of three straight victories (N.Y. 24, Houston 17; N.Y. 10, Oakland 7; N.Y. 31, Boston 24) after an opening game 38-14 defeat at the hands of the Patriots.

Long of Oakland City College. Long serves as the chairman of the state junior college curriculum and instruction committee. Hansen also serves as a member of the state committee.

It is anticipated that the annual instructional workshop will be held some time during November, according to Hansen.

L.G. Group Slaps H.E.W. Booklet

Members of the Lemon Grove California Republican Assembly at a special meeting Friday unanimously passed a resolution against the policies suggested in the booklet published by the U. S. Health, Education and Welfare Dept., which, they said, encouraged illegitimacy.

Referring to Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin, who has accused District Attorney Don Keller of taking material out of context from the booklet entitled "Unmarried Parents, A Guide for the Development of Service in Public Welfare", the resolution quoted certain pages and asked how could any number of words preceding or following such sentences alter the obvious conclusions suggested.

The membership also commended to Dr. Gene French, candidate for the San Diego Board of Education, for his outstanding work in "Youth, for Christ", and expressed concern over charges made against Dr. French by his opponent.

Other action taken was to change the meeting set from October 17, to October 25 for the convenience of the scheduled out-of-town speaker.

WASTE BASKET FIRE SETS OFF SPRINKLERS

A fire in a waste basket at Kempton street school set off the automatic sprinkling system and brought the Spring Valley Fire Department to the scene Tuesday.

The only damage was water damage from the sprinking system.

A fire in the Elkins residence of 4181 Bonita st. caused extensive damage Saturday night. The amount of damage was not estimated.

Children with matches were the possible cause of two fires in the Spring Valley area last week.

Rubbish in a vacant lot South of Osage st. on Potrero burned in a fire Wednesday. No damage was reported.

No damage was reported when one-half acre of grass in a field west of Ashmore st. burned Friday.

Cinderella Revealed At TOPS Fashion Show

by Helen McClure
TOPS Peeler

More than 300 people witnessed the unveiling of Lemon Grove's real-life Cinderella at the TOPS Lemon Peelers' fashion show September 28.

Mrs. Rose Jurchenko, a member of the local club which is dedicated to sensible weight loss, was chosen by the fashion show chairman to demonstrate the complete metamorphosis of an every-day housewife into a glamourous woman.

The identity of Cinderella was kept secret to all but the essential few, and for more than a month Mrs. Jurchenko was subject to a continuous round of appointments, fittings, experiments with hair color and style, aided by designer Larry Evans, who created two complete costumes especially for her. Joseph's Continental Coiffures colored and styled her hair, and Dr. Russell Love, local optometrist, convinced her that her appearance and outlook would be improved by substitution contact lenses for the heavy glasses she had worn most of her life.

When Cindrella was presented and walked out on the ramp there was a stunned silence followed by thunderous applause. It was difficult to connect the Rose on the fashion show runway, dressed in her beautifully designed wool afternoon costume, hair beautifully styled with the Rose we had seen every week at TOPS meetings as she faithfully recorded our weight loss and scolded us for any gains.

Although Rose has lost a total of 54 pounds since joining TOPS Lemon Peelers, it was not the weight loss alone that had made the tremendous difference — it was the combined efforts of designers, hair stylist, optometrist and Rose's own personality that made this fair-tale a reality.

TOPS Lemon Peelers are justly proud, not only for our Cinderella, but of all our members who are striving to achieve a healthies, happier life by attaining proper weight. Twenty-three members have lost at least 25 pounds since joining TOPS.

TOPS Lemon Peelers, with more than a 100 members meets every Tuesday evening at 7:30 (weigh-in begins at 6 p.m.) in the conference room of the Lemon Grove Medical Center at 3240 Main st. Guests are encouraged to attend and join the trend.

SHIRTLESS MAN SOUGHT

Someone "gave the shirt off his back" but not intentionally.

Mrs. Wilson took the shirts home at our suggestion, where she is keeping them for the owner. She lives at 7576 Pacific st., L.G.
